STROLL

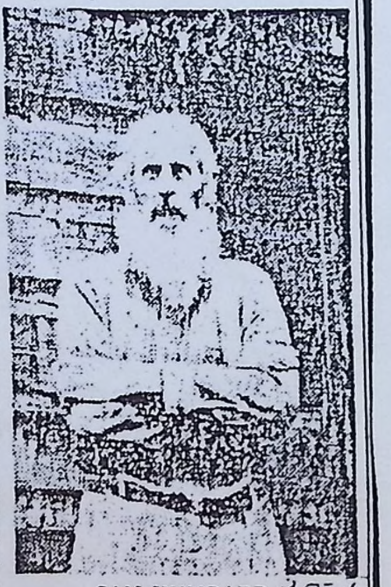
WHEN IN GREENEVILLE I like to stand around in the court house yard or on the yard walkway and talk to and listen to the many unusual city and county characters who gather there.

But when I go back again I'll miss one of those interesting men. Sam Humbard is dead. Sam was the last of the only two East Tennesseans I ever knew who kept a fire burning on the old family harthstone perpetually, night and day, summer and winter. The other was Ras Lindamood, who died in Lonesome Dove Holler, Anderson County, a dozen years ago.

When Ras died, the more than 100-year-old fire died out with him. Sam Humbard's hearthstone fire flickered and died before Sam. But Sam couldn't help it.

He was a bachelor, and lived alone in the old Humbard home a few miles out of Greeneville. He got sick. They took him off to a city hospital. No one was left at home to keep the fire kindled. It went out.



SAM HUMBARD BER
Kept hearthfire burning

The Humbard hearthstone fire was carried as live coals in a bucket by the Humbard family when it migrated from Virginia to Greene County. I'm not certain when that was. Seems, though, that Sam has told it was before the Civil War.

Sam, who was in his middle 60s, was a cousin to Knoxville's late John Humbard, a world-renowned engineer and road builder. Other cousins are Richard Humbard, Birmingham, Ala.; Ben, of Kinsale, Va., and Mrs. Louise Humbard Halliburton, Knoxville. Surviving also is Sam's aunt, Mrs. S. L. Humbard, 2348 Brooks Rd.

Sam Humbard wore a long beard when I knew him and when he had his hearthfire burning. He had the most sorrowful eyes. Mrs. S. L. Humbard, the aunt, and the mother of the late John Humbard, the road builder, says the story is that when a young man, Sam was head over heels in love with a Greene County girl. When she married another man Sam said he'd never shave again. And he didn't. But when he got in the hospital the nurses did shave him.

Sam didn't go back to the old home after he lost his beard and after his fire was out. He spent some time in Florida, then came back to Greeneville where his recent illness ended in his death.

FIRE BURNS 160 YEARS Adgn Humbard Home

Greenville, Tenn.- A fire has beem kept burning in an old fireplace in the old Humbert home nine miles out of Greenville for 160 years.

It was kindled when Adrian Humbert moved into the log house in 1785. The house was new then. That section was wilderness, Indians lurked in the pine thickets.

Some of the Humbert family have lived in the house on down through the years. They have kept the fire kindled summer and winter.

Sam Humbert a great grandson, lives in the old place now. I was out there today. Often I have heard of these fires that gave warmed hearthstones of old homes in east Tennessee for a century or more. This is the first one I have seen.

We stopped in the yard, Willis Jaynes, a Greenville Attorney, and myself. A wisp of smoke was coming out of the old rock chimmney top. The air smelled pleasantly of burning wood.

SENTIMENTAL FEELING

Sam Humbert invited us in to see the fire. He had it down to a few live coals and live embers burning from three small chunks of dogwood and appletree.

It gives you a sentimental feeling to look at one of these fires. There are the old hearthstones worn slick by the bare feet of scores of children, and parents too, who have warmed by the fire. There are the old side faces of the fireplace, and you let your mind try to think of the children leaning against them. And there's the old fireboard where the old clock sat, and ticked the years away.

This old Humbert fire was like that before George Washington was president, a long, long time. Yes it gives you a sentimental feeling to look at one of these perpetual fires. A feeling of the everlastingness of the ties of warmth and love of the family fireside.

Sam tends it carefully during the summer months. He keeps it so low there is barely any heat at all to add to the summer heat of the room. He has left the fire alone for several days in a stretch. Always, though, he has covered it with ashes so live coals and embers are there when he comes back.

Sam doesn't know what will become of the fire when he is gone. He is the last of the direct line of the Humberts that have lived in the house. He has no children. He is a bachelor.

HAIR TO HIS SHOULDERS

If you should go to this old home--and if in Greenville any one can tell you how to get there-- Sam would interest you almost as much as the old fire. His black wavey hair hangs to his shoulders. His beard is long and black.

Mr. Jaynes told me Sam went into an office in Greenville and sat down when the office girl was using the telephone, and not noticing him. She looked around in a moment, saw Sam sitting there looking at her, and almost went into a fit. She threw ink and papers every which way. "I swear, the sudden thought that struck me was that he was Jesus," the office girl said later. Sam's eyes are a soft brown, and meltingly friendly and understanding. And you can listen to his voice for hours without tiring.

Not many years back Sam was haled into court on some minor charge. Lawyer John Kilgo was the prosecutor. Willis Jaynes was the defense counsel. "I didn't have to do much," said Mr. Jaynes, "Sam's voice and his eyes would have cleared him, even if he had been guilty. Kilgo told me Sam was the best witness he have ever heard testify."

RENTS SOME OF FARM

We didn't ask Sam why he let his hair and beard grow like it is. Some around Greenville say Sam was disappointed in love. One can hardly believe that, however. With a clean shave, and a fresh haircut, and with one of the finest rigs and best stepping horses of Greene county, and with those eyes and that voice-- well, one can just imagine that back yonder in his courting days all tha ladies swooned when Sam was around.

Sam isn't anybody's hermit these days, even if there is that long beard and hair. He is under 50 years of age.

Pointing out one of her latest marigold blooms, Mrs. Rachel Troxell, 311 E. Lincoln, rests on her garden hoe as she takes out a few moments from her gardening chores.

She does the flowers

Neighbors of Mrs. Rachel Troxell, 311 E. Lincoln, who called to nominate her as owner of this week's Lawn of the Week, said she actually should be nominated for "Yard of the Week".

That's because, in addition to a thriving green lawn, Mrs. Troxell and her daughter Imogene, have glorious flower beds worthy of nomination.

Magnolias, honeysuckle, peonies, roses, marigolds, petunias, shasta and painted daisies and a variety of other blooms adorn the yard which is immaculately kept by the two women.

Although Mrs. Troxell said the recent water rationing had "hurt her yard to some extent, and she hasn't watered much," the lawn is still a brilliant green carpet of Bermuda grass.

Miss Imogene Troxell, a librarian at Central State College, mows and edges the lawn, and Mrs. Troxell said her main concern is "doing the flowers".

Mrs. Troxell and her daughter have lived at 311 E. Lincoln for seven years, and have always shared the yard responsibilities.

In addition to the lawn and flowers, the Troxell yard, back and front, has a variety of impressive, healthy bushes, mock orange and crepe myrtle. A snowball bush, averlia and pariacantha bushes are flanked by a mountain ash tree.

Dainty cypress vines climb a front porch trellis, to complete a fine array of landscaping.

AFTER GLOW

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.

I'd like to leave an after glow of smiles when life is done.

I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways,

Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.

I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun

Of happy memories that I leave
WHEN LIFE IS DONE.

tered as the First National Bank in Fredonia, Mr. Babb remained as its president and retired from its direction January 1, 1951, his activities were not bounded by his banking responsibilities. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Fredonia, serving in all capacities, many terms an Elder and was a Ruling Elder at the time of his passing. In the Masonic bodies, he was well known throughout the state, having occupied all of the offices of the several Masonic bodies locally. He was Past Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery Knights Templar of the state of Kansas, and was the Grand Treasurer of the Grand Commandery at the time of his death. Mr. Babb organized the Knights Templar drill team. In the late teens and early twenties and through his leadership the drill team brought honor to Fredonia, both in Class A and Class B competition in the state. His Masonic experiences in the different bodies extended over a span of more than fifty years and he had received recognition for fifty years of meritorious service from each of the bodies.

In addition to the immediate family before mentioned, he leaves surviving him two sisters, Mrs. Edwin D. Glauser of Swarthmore, Pa., Mrs. George N. Hughes of Front Royal, Va., two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Memorial services will be held for Mr. Babb from the Presbyterian church, Fredonia, at 2:30 p.m., Tuesday, May 5, 1953, with Rev. Frank K. McDowell, officiating. Burial will be in the Fredonia city cemetery. There will be Masonic graveside services and the Commandery escort. The body will lie in state until twelve noon Tuesday at the Dunham Funeral Home.

In the passing of Thomas C. Babb we have lost a friend, one we admired and esteemed highly; one for whom we all had the warmest personal feelings. He was the kind of a man that brought honor and dignity to every engagement entered into. His steadfast adherence to the highest traditions of business, personal and intellectual integrity helped preserve for all of us the best in life. As a citizen he exemplified true Americanism at its best.—T. D. Hampson.

Catholic Church, Fredonia, Kans.

The Sacred Heart Church, Fredonia, founded in 1906. Courtesy Doris Mosher.

Founded in 1906, Sacred Heart was first served by priests from Neodesha, Father John Dominic being the first. In 1915 a resident pastor came to stay in the person of Father Francis Morrell. The church building is of brick and stone, located at 13th and Madison streets on a lot which was donated by the R.R. McGrath family.

It should be noted that Fredonia was on a circuit for the Jesuit missionaries from Osage Mission. It is recorded that Father Paul Ponziglione visited the Wilson County area as early as the 1850s to say Mass and administer the Sacraments. His journal makes note that "this station was established for the Irish and French squatters at Mr. Michael Reardon's House." If indeed these early Catholics were staking claim to their spot in the Kansas territory around Wilson County, it is only fitting that an Irishman of the second generation would donate a lot of the parish of Sacred Heart.

Other parish facilities include a cemetery, hall and rectory. The Sisters of Mercy came to teach in the school which served students in the Northwest corner of Wilson County. The school was a two-room facility built in 1953 during the pastorship of Father William Ryan, added to in 1960 by Father Ivan Eck. It was closed later.

An unusual arrangement was that of the priest's living quarters. The Sisters of Mercy also ran a hospital in Fredonia until 1985 called St. Margaret Mercy. The pastor of Sacred Heart parish lived at the hospital in the chaplain's quarters with the rectory serving as a parish hall until 1953 when a new hall was built.

Present pastor is Father Steve Scheier. Others included Fathers Denis Trayers, Neil Diver, Frank Colbert, Leo Hahn, Edward York and John White.

NATIONAL HD WEEK

The following is a quotation from a letter written by E. T. Benson, Secretary of Agriculture:

"Many people will pay tribute during this eighth National Home Demonstration Week, May 3 to 9, to the remarkable achievements in rural living made by the three and one half million women who take part in home demonstration work.

"You who have played such a vital part in bringing these about have proved you have faith, that farm people, when given facts, will come up with good answers.

"Helping people to get these facts and to understand them, I know, has not been easy. It has taken long hours and much effort. But the answers in terms of contentment, economic security, and comfortable living for rural families must be a source of great comfort to you home demonstration agents, local leaders, and club members alike.

"Homemaking, as you teach it, is as much concerned with human values as technological change, although both have always been a part of your extensive teaching. Unfortunately, the art of living has lagged somewhat behind technical progress.

LAST SURVIVOR OF DALTON'S RAID

T277

October 5, 1892, 9 a.m., Coffeyville, Kansas

Twenty year old T.C. Babb was at work as bookkeeper for the C.M. Condon and Co. bank . . . Riding down Eighth Street from the direction of Indian Territory (now Oklahoma) were three former Coffeyville boys, Grat, Bob and Emmett Dalton, accompanied by Dick Broadwell and Bill Powers. All had a date with destiny. Two Daltons and their two henchmen would soon be dead, and the young bank clerk would go on to be remembered at his death in 1953 as the "last" survivor of the infamous Dalton raid.

In March, 1920, Mr. Babb then cashier of the Wilson Co. Bank, Fredonia, related what happened when the five outlaws emerged from the alley between a pharmacy and a dry goods store.

"I remember that raid mighty well. Was employed at the Condon Bank. The banks has been opened a short time when the Dalton gang rode into town. They came from the west. There were five of them, Bob, Grat and Emmett Dalton, Bill Powers and Dick Broadwell.

"They dismounted in an alley west of the banks, tied their horses there, made their way east to the street upon which the Condon Bank was located. From there, Bob and Emmett Dalton went on east and north to the First National Bank. When the three bandits entered the Condon Bank, Mr. Carpenter was well up towards the front door, in the southwest part of the building, the cashier, Mr. Ball, now the president, was standing in the northwest part of the house. I was sitting at a desk towards the northeast part of the banking rooms, quite near to the vault. I did not see them enter but for some reason, instinctively, as they entered I stepped into the vault nearby.

"The robbers had the other officials covered, and demanded of the cashier that he open the safe and get out the money. And right there was such an exhibition of nerve as I shall not expect to see again.

open it now.' And all the time, remember, a clock hanging in plain sight, showed it was opening time and past that, for the bank. 'How soon will it open,' asked one of the men. Again looking at his watch, the cashier replied, 'In ten minutes.' 'We will wait,' said the leader. And they did.

"That cashier's nerve,' said Mr. Babb, 'saved the two banks the loss of many thousands of dollars. During that ten minutes Bob and Emmett Dalton had secured $20,000 from the First National and had started back to join their companions. But in that few minutes Coffeyville had armed. And Coffeyville in those days carried many arms and had a number of men who shot to kill.

"As the outlaws showed themselves in the Condon Bank, the battle opened. From points of vantage, citizens fired on the Dalton band. The three inside the Condon Bank were fired upon while in the bank. The fire was deadly. To save our own lives, three of us lay on the floor of the bank while bullets sang just over our heads.

"In the fight four of the citizen and four of the bandits were either killed outright or died shortly of their fatal wounds.

"Bob and Emmett Dalton fought their way to what is known in the history of hold-ups as 'the bloody alley.' There Grat and Bob Dalton died fighting and Emmett, trying to help Bob make his escape, was so badly wounded that it was not thought he could live. But he did and, after serving time for his crime, was pardoned by Gov. Hoch. "Yes,' said Mr. Babb, as his mind went back to that awful day, and the reminiscent look came into his eyes, 'Yes, I rather think I know about all I care to know concerning the last raid of the Daltons."

Mr. Babb was a Pennsylvanian by birth, coming to Kansas when he was 15. He was to work in the banking business in Oswego, Coffeyville and Neodesha before coming to Fredonia around the turn of the century where he was associated with J.Q. Smith in the Fredonia Produce. Possibly his wifes father 22

During the Theodore Roosevelt administration he was selected postmaster by the community in 1905. It was during his time as postmaster that free city delivery was added and Fredonia boasted a system of five rural routes. He was re-appointed postmaster in December, 1909.

Returning to banking, T.C. Babb joined the Wilson Co. Bank as assistant cashier, becoming cashier in 1916. In 1931 he was vice-president and cashier and was elected president in 1932, a position he retained until retirement in 1951.

During Mr. Babb's presidency, the bank's name was changed to The First National Bank in Fredonia December 31, 1936.

When Thomas Clark Babb died in May, 1953, the following article appeared in the Coffeyville Journal —

"A chapter of Coffeyville history, the Dalton Raid, flickered back to life for a few brief moments over the weekend with the passing of Thomas Clark Babb, who was a youthful clerk in the Condon Bank the day the infamous bandit gang rode to its death.

"A sensational moment often overshadows and dims years of less spectacular but more substantial contributions. Such was the experience of Mr. Babb. He was recognized known to his fellow townsmen.

"There is a sidelight of interest in the passing of Mr. Babb. A newspaper reference to him caught the attention of Homer Croy, New York author who has been highly successful in presenting the American story of the era which produced the Daltons at one end of the scale of humanity and the Thomas Clark Babbs at the other.

"Possibly unknown to Mr. Babb, Mr. Croy was planning a trip to Fredonia within the next few days or weeks, to have the Southeast Kansan reconstruct the Raid as he saw it."

Betty Patton

Dear Betty:

Really don't have much to write about at this time. Just wanted to send you something on T. C. Babb of the infamous Dalton raid in Coffeyville, Kansas. Come to think of it, you are not too far from Coffeyville. I was unable to find him on the 1880 census so I asked my friend in Salt Lake to see what she could find on an 1885 Kansas census which is not available to Family History Library branches such as ours in Lecanto. He was not on it either but she found him on the 1900 and 1910 censuses and also found this article.

T. C. married Marie C. Smith in June 1899 and they had three daughters: Dorothy, Marian and Elizabeth. Marie's father was J. Q. Smith mentioned in the article. I have written the paper in Fredonia asking them for a copy of of his obituary. Hopefully they have one. He was a pretty prominent person so I am sure they would have an extended obit for him.

By the way, Sharon sent me what she received from the Bates and I was, and am revolted. I wrote Sharon and told her I supported her all the way with money for a lawyer, letters or whatever is deemed necessary. I shall not support the Bates in any manner. I am sure I don't know the whole story but I do know that I thought she had been railroaded out of the historian job at the reunion, I knew she was going to be there, she has been very helpful in sharing and sending me information and I think Marian in Springfield had no chance to develop anything in two months when the Bates decided to switch to Barryville.

Sounds like your brother had a rough time. I don't know what we could do with out power for three days. We have two refrigerators with the freezer compartments full. Of course if it is icy and cold, I guess there would be less chance of thawing. I don't think I could live anywhere where it gets so cold.

Glad that Carl and Norma sent you the Valentine Babb stuff. I am not sure what I sent them. I got several CD roms from the Family Tree people (Broderbund). They have trees of lines of millions of people that sent in the information. I have looked up several things and sent something on the Dodds to Metsie and other information on other people to others. So, what I sent them may have been something from that. They had sent me some info on Valentine down to Carl as I was interested what Carl's line was. I also tried to find something on Babbs who might have been the ancestors of the Babb in Bentonville that you mentioned was running an ad for a waitress but could not uncover anything except I found an Edmund Burk Babb who lived in Benton, AR but died there, unmarried, in 1906. So, he didn't leave any son to carry on the Babb name. Maybe a brother??

All for this time. I regret the episode about Sharon but had to get it off my chest.

HOT COALS OF LONG STANDING

In 1785 PHILIP$^4$ BABB [1-2-2-1] purchased some land in a section of North Carolina which became Greene Co., TN, moved his family down from Frederick Co., VA, to this sparsely inhabited area, and soon erected a grist mill on gushing Lick Creek. One of his closest neighbors was SAMUEL HUMBERT (1709-1805) who moved down from VA by 9 Oct 1782, according to a date etched on his still-standing cabin fireplace - next to the initials "S.H."

SAMUEL and wife SARAH (PAINTER) had a family of six known children, and sons JONATHAN and ADEN HUMBERT decided to use the water power of the Creek to start a gunpowder mill. It is not known how they got the materials, but may have gotten the saltpetre from the droppings of bats in a nearby cave. Mammoth Cave in KY furnished such supplies for the War of 1812 gunpowder.

It follows that according to the "law of young romance" PHILIP BABB, JR., fell in love with and married ELIZABETH HUMBERT 17 Feb 1785, and her brother JONATHAN HUMBERT wooed and won MARY BABB 10 Mar 1786. Then of course these brother/sister couples each cleared some more land and built cabins of their own for their families of 6-8 children, we presume.

Now the interesting story in this connection is that it was tradition then to keep the fireplace coals burning night and day, summer and winter. Of course folks did not have handy safety matches to keep lighting fires, and they did have to cook every day in their fireplaces. Tradition among the HUMBERTS is that they brought live coals with them in a bucket all the way from VA. Of course they had to stop and eat now and then on the trail, probably catching some game to roast or fish to fry. They would keep renewing the coals in the bucket, but I guess one could say that they were "descended from the Virginia coals."

Some of the HUMBERT family lived in the log house from the time it was built in 1785 until 19~~5~~79. 1944 The last inhabitant was a SAM HUMBERT who grew a very long beard down his chest and wore his hair to his shoulders. People said that he had been very much in love with a Greene Co. girl as a young man, and when she married another he said that he would never shave again.

Sam tended the fire very carefully during the summer months, keeping it so low that there was hardly any heat at all. If he had to go away for several days he would cover it with ashes so that there were some live coals and embers when he came back. He lived on as a bachelor, nurturing his fire alone but warm, until in his middle sixties he became ill and was taken to a hospital. Alas, no one thought to keep the fire going, and after about 170 years the fire went out. According to an old newspaper write-up, furnished to us by Sharon Humbert James, the keeping of the perpetual hot coals in a house was not uncommon in the country homes of eastern Tennessee. Perhaps true of PHILIP also!

PHILIP (1·2·2·1)

Numerous letters have come in with juicy information on PHILIP BABB (1-2-2-1) (1731-1813), his children, his mill, and his wives! He was born in Chester Co., PA, grew up in Frederick Co., VA, and died in Greeneville, TN. Moving his children to TN seems to have been a problem with the Quakers.

"Hopewell Friends History" has an entry dated 1806 concerning the movement of PHILIP's younger children to TN. This date is in error as the children were all grown up by then. Ruth Harrington of Philadelphia found copies of the real entries in Gilbert Cope's transcripts of Quaker records at the PA Historical Society.

6th of 9th mo. 1784 - PHILIP BABB's five children, PHILIP, STEPHEN, MARY, ELIZABETH and TAMAR, request certificate for New Garden, NC.

4th of 10th mo. 1784 - Friends of New Garden, NC not willing to accept above children.

5th of 7th mo 1790 - This meeting is informed that PHILIP BABB's children - PHILIP, STEPHEN, MARY, ELIZABETH and TAMER removed with their parents within the verge of Westfield, M.M. in North Carolina and had no certificates and several of them since gone out in marriage. Richard Ridgway and James Steer are appointed to write to that meeting requesting their assistance in treating with those who have misconducted, also some information concerning the others and report when ready.

Since PHILIP's wife MARY and her dau PHOEBE and son SETH were disowned by the Quakers for joining the Methodists in 1779, of course they would not be listed by the Quakers in the above. Older children SARAH, JOSEPH, and THOMAS had birth records in Hopewell and were adults by 1784. Thus we pull together the 10 children.

PHILIP erected a log mill for grinding wheat and corn soon after he arrived in what is now Greene Co., TN. It was one of the earliest mills in the area and located on a considerable drop on the Roaring Fork of Lick Creek. His first mill burned but was rebuilt. ERNEST BABB of Memphis sent us a photo of the mill as it looks today - two stories and clapboarded - kind of run down. ERNIE and RICHARD BABB of Pittsburgh furnished us maps of the area, and one should take SR93 out of Greeneville and then turn west on BABB'S MILL ROAD to reach the mill. ERNIE writes "A drive down BABB'S VALLEY to the Brittontown Church Road gave us fine views of Peters Ridge rising 400 feet above the valley. Imagining the amount of water pouring down the west side of that ridge in springtime explains the name of ROARING FORK. A short trip to Brittontown skirting the base of BABB'S KNOB on the west side showed us the rough terrain of these hills where PHILIP BABB settled in with his family. Up the hill from the decaying mill house is the BABB VALLEY GRAVEYARD. Among the oldest tombstones there is one for ER BABB, grandson of PHILIP, and one for PHILIP of PHILIP. Returning to SR93 NE one can turn west on Doty Road to find Newmansville and Doty Chapel Cemetery and a number of more recent BABB tombstones."

More about PHILIP and his wives and the Antrims in another issue. Just a hint - the 11 children of NANCY (HAINS) ANTRIM regretted to have old MR. BABB for a stepfather!!

Watch your eyes

Eyestrain, exercise, hormonal changes, exposure to ultra-violet (UV) radiation and disease — not to mention cosmetics-related infection and injury — are causing women to pay closer attention to eye health.

Women, increasing health by increasing exercise, may place their eyes at risk. Protective eyewear, customized for various sports, helps to prevent injury and limits the eyes' UV exposure. This is important since UV contributes to the risk of developing cataracts.

Cataract is only one of the 'aging' eye problems facing women. Age-related macular degeneration, glaucoma and diabetic retinopathy cost thousands of women their sight each year.

Changes in hormones due to pregnancy, menopause or even a woman's regular menstrual cycle may cause changes in vision. These are usually temporary eye conditions. For example, some women find wearing contacts uncomfortable during pregnancy. Usually this doesn't indicate a serious problem; moms should be able to return to contact use after delivery.

serious problem; moms should be able to return to contact use after delivery.

Women who have diabetes before pregnancy and those with gestational diabetes need to monitor vision closely. Blurred vision may indicate high blood sugar levels. Blurry vision or spots in front of the eyes may result from increased blood pressure during pregnancy. At excessive levels, high blood pressure can cause retinal detachment.

The importance of sharing medical information with all health care professionals isn't limited to pregnancy or serious health issues. Comfort issues, like dry eye — a common complaint of post-menopausal women — can be managed with help from an eye doctor.

"Women must inform their doctors about all medications," commented Eve Higginbotham, MD. "Some beta blockers used to control glaucoma can increase the risk of heart problems and lower HDL levels. Your doctor can recommend ways to lower the risks posed by beta blockers."

As if the natural challenges posed by the female body weren't enough, careless use of makeup can endanger eyes, causing infection or injury. Daily use of cosmetics, especially around the eyes, is safe, provided you follow a few basic rules. Contact wearers need to be scrupulously attentive to safe make-up tips and follow doctor's recommendations for cleaning, disinfecting and storing contacts, whether lenses are cosmetic or improve vision.

Reader RSVP

We'd like our readers' help with two stories we're planning for future Healthy Living editions:

● Do you have a child with Attention Deficit Disorder or Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder?

If you'd be willing to share your story with our readers, we'd like to hear from you.

● Doctors' house calls: Doctors making house calls seem to have been part of the Norman Rockwell era. But perhaps you know a doctor who still looks in on his/her patients at their homes.

If you have information about either of the above subjects, contact Jess DeHaven at the St. Joseph News-Press at (816) 271-8594 or (800) 779-6397, Ext. 594; by e-mail at jessd@npgco.com; or by fax at (816) 271-8692.

The presence of pets can help you through tough times

By JESS DeHAVEN
jessd@npgco.com
St. Joseph News-Press

Ask Sharon James what her pets have meant to her health, and she doesn't mince words.

"I can't live without them," she says.

That might be a bit of an exaggeration, Mrs. James admits, but she says she firmly believes the dogs she's owned have provided important benefits to her health.

"When I lost my father last year, my dog, Coco, really helped me not only get through his illness with cancer but also his passing," she says. "I had my husband and other family, but there was just something about Coco that really gave me a lot of support mentally and emotionally, and she really kept me going."

Unfortunately, Coco died a few months after Mrs. James' father. But Mrs. James has acquired a new dog, Sammy, who she says also keeps her spirits and mental health in good shape.

Mrs. James isn't alone in believing that pets can be an asset to their owners' health. Studies have shown pets can provide many benefits to their owners, including lowering their incidence of depression, lowering blood pressure and giving people a sense of calm and relaxation, says Dr. Mara Baun, associate dean for research in the college of nursing at the University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha.

"We've seen pets lower stress and depression and increase socialization in their owners," says Dr. Baun, who has conducted several studies on how pets affect the health of humans. "Having pets is good for people, and the studies have provided hard data to support that."

Dr. Baun says she has seen animals elicit response from elderly patients who have become withdrawn, and they also calm children who are undergoing medical procedures.

Keeping pets clean helps eliminate problems

Knight Ridder

Pets are good for us. They prompt us to exercise, and they make great companions. But pets can be bad for us, too — if not properly cared for, they can even make us sick.

Human ailments caused by pets range from common, irritating allergies to potentially serious but rare diseases such as Lyme disease or bubonic plague. Pets also can pass parasites, fungi and some bacterial infections to their owners.

Regular vet checks, inoculations and keeping pets' habitats clean can solve most problems, says Scott Nichols, a senior student at Colorado State School of Veterinary Medicine in Fort Collins.

There also are other precautions we can take to minimize contracting such illnesses.

◆ Children who play in yards that have dog and cat feces are the most susceptible to picking up parasites such as worms. Regular pet worming is the best prevention, along with cleaning the yard or litter box

In 1860, Dawson & Mary DeFord lived in this same area for some time. ---- Continue on Keith Valley 1.5 miles, and you are on Joseph Stonecipher's property (on both sides of the road) --- in 1845. He had a large home built on a slight rise on the east side of the road. House was between small branch (to the north) and present house on the south. From family stories, Joseph covered the road bank in stones and part of the front yard --- the home was a community gathering place for family outings & visitations. --- Just .2 mile from Joseph was the homeplace of Samuel Henderson Humbard, Sr. -- The 1890 Humbard Homeplace remaims are about 200 feet from Keith Valley Road at Spring Place Road - over in a field, to your left. Samuel, Sr. moved later to another home that we see soon. Sam. H. Humbard, Jr. lived at this homesite after his Father moved. --Turn left on Spring Place -- go 1.3 miles to last Homeplace of S. H. Humbard, Sr. - on left, the large 2 story home is empty now and is used for hay storage barn, as you see! Go .5 miles to Liberty Cemetery -- on left side of road -- this is burial place of Joseph & Sally Howell Stonecipher & Gabriel & Zilla DeFord.

WELCOME TO RED CLAY STATE HISTORICAL PARK

Red Clay is dedicated to the preservation of the Cherokee. We hope you will visit our park often and continue your interest in Red Clay. For assistance, call on any staff member. If you have a need for special services, please contact us in advance.

THE JAMES F. CORN INTERPRETIVE CENTER include exhibit rooms of cultural artifacts and documents which represent the historic Cherokee period of 1832 - 1838, a resource reading room, audio-visual room, and park administration offices.

COUNCIL SPRING: Many call this sacred spring the Blue Hole, a natural landmark of the council grounds. It rises from an underground cave below the rock ledge and flows to the Conasauga and Coosa River systems. Some 504,000 gallons of water flow through here every day at a rate of 350 gallons per minute. The spring maintains an annual temperature of about 56 degrees and is approximately 15 feet deep. The spring provided water for the people at the councils and was a sacred place to them.

COUNCIL HOUSE: In a council house very similar to this and very near this location, the Cherokee leaders met and tried desperately to keep their lands from being treatied away. The "Trail of Tears" really began here at Red Clay when the Cherokees were told to give up their homes and move to Oklahoma.

CHEROKEE FARMHOUSE: This is a replica of a typical homestead of a middle class Cherokee family in the 1800's. The chinked log house has sleeping quarters upstairs and living quarters below. Out back is the barn and corn crib. Many Cherokees of this era were farmers.

ETERNAL FLAME: The Cherokees carried hot coals from their council fire at Red Clay on the removal to Oklahoma. In the 1950's the flame was transported to Cherokee, N. C., and then in April 1984, ten Cherokee runners with torches returned the fire to Red Clay, demonstrating that the Cherokee spirit is unquenchable.

TRAIL: Behind the amphitheatre near the picnic area is an entrance to a 1.7 mile loop trail which goes to the Overlook Tower. The trail is a moderate grade and is well marked. A short nature trail begins at the spring and ends at the farmstead.

PICNIC AREA: We have 25 picnic sites with grills and one covered picnic shelter with a seating capacity of 100, a stone fireplace and restrooms. The picnic shelter can be reserved for reunions, meetings, and other outdoor events.

AMPHITHEATRE: The large amphitheatre seats about 500 people and has an extensive lighting and sound system with central booths in the rear.

MINI THEATRE: This is located beside the spring. It has a seating capacity of 50 and is used as an outdoor facility for programs and other events.

REMEMBER, RED CLAY IS A SANCTUARY: All area features including plants, animals, rocks and artifacts are protected by state law. Violators are subject to persecution. Leave only footprints; take only memories. Your cooperation is needed in keeping this area natural and beautiful. No littering. Remove nothing living. Protect our fragile ecosystem.

1997 REUNION REPORT

Best Reunion Yet

Our 1997 Reunion gets the best yet award, it was a great reunion, we got to meet a lot of our cousins that we did not know. the weather was in our favor, the food was great and there was more than enough. We had a large turn out and people traveled a great distance, we appreciate them for that, everyone had a great time , we just needed more time. There is so much history in Bradley County and we only scratched the surface. Maybe sometime in the future we can come back to Bradley County. Clifford & Mary Stonecipher did a great job with the Tours. Many hours were spent in creating them and if you did not get to see all you wanted to, maybe we can do it again. Mary & Clifford, a big Thank-You for that, you did a great job.

Our Speakers were just great, they both did such a fine job and they were very versed in their fields. They kept our attention and were very informative. On Friday Night , we had James Odgen III who is with the Fort Oglethrope Park to speak on the Civil War and he did such a great job. We appreciate his coming and speaking to us. On Saturday Night during the meal we had Lowell Kirk, who is a History Professor at Maryville College, to speak on the Cherokee Indian Removal or the Trail of Tears. Lowell did such a good job and has a way of keeping your attention. Both of these men deserve a big Thank-You. Both of their messages coincided with our setting for the Reunion which helped to make it a huge success.

Many thanks to our President,Howard Morelock, who did a great job in putting this Reunion together also to our Secretary & Treasurer, Marilyn Collins, who always does a good job. We appreciate both of theses people also to all of those who helped with the Reunion. Our accommodations, here at Red Clay were exceptional in that we had plenty of room and the Park itself is a beautiful place for a Reunion. The Park service provided Movies for us, and we appreciated that. For the ones that don't know. The park is in the same area where our Morelocks, Stoneciphers and Humberds, are any spelling thereof lived and died. It is also the same area that some of our people passed through, before going west.

Donations and Expenses

The above check was donated by the Quality Inn for future Reunions which brings us to a total of $673.38 For our next years reunion. We were able to pay all of our expenses for this year. Our mailing this past year , was $345.00 alone so when you add that to a place to have the reunion plus all the others things, It can be quite expensive. We will still have to charge $10.00 for all adult above 18 years of age, to be able to cover our expenses We appreciate the Quality Inn for this nice donation. It would be nice if some of you would send Ted Jordan , a Thank-You note.

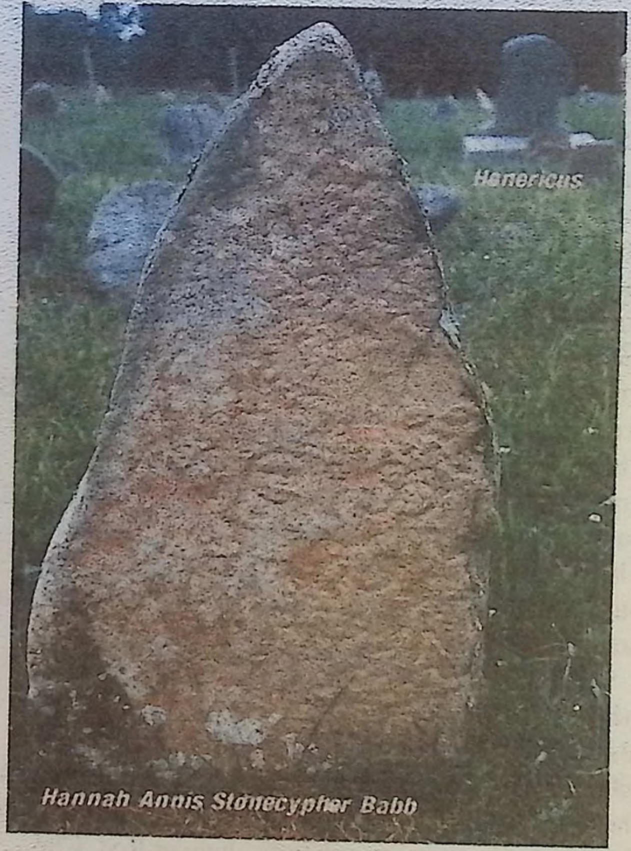
Special Thank-You to James Humberd, atty. Hugh & Marshell Babb

Our hats off to theses men, they have done a wonderful job. Hugh Babb and his nephew have donated the Cemetery to a trust. The Babbs Family Cemetery will now be known as the Babbs Farm Cemetery. Our donations will now go into this trust and the Cemetery will be maintained through it.

James Humberd atty. from Knoxville, Tn. has taken care of all of the legal work, which was quite a job and he is not charging for any of it. Isn't it just great , that we have our own Lawyer. Thanks so very much for all that you have done, James Humberd.

Our Board for the Cemetery will be composed of three members: Pres. Arless Stonecipher, Vice Pres. James Humberd & Sec/Trea. Hugh Babb. Keep those donations, coming in.

Sometime in the future, Cheral Henderson, Hugh Babb & I hope to Index this Cemetery



This Stone has been verified and Together with Esther Hawkins, the wife of Joseph Hawkins, markers will be placed in the near future identifying them. Because of the good donations for the cemetery at the reunion, this can be done. I personally want to thank a cousin of ours who challenged the donations at the Reunion and that person is: Robert "Bob" Babb. Thank you Bob.

Thank You Hugh & JIM

I have been working on our family history for about 15 years now and have a large database of names. I have built it around the Steinseifer/Humber and their descendants. All this research has been a joint effort of all my cousins, I created a central gathering place for the data.and am a strong believer in preserving the history of our family. I have researched our people back before they had a name. I have followed them for 300 years in bohemia before they settled on the German border and there acquired their name Steinseiffer which was taken from a village Steinseifferdorf. From there , they moved to the WestPhelia area which is on the Siegen River. In Obershelden the year,1595 We find Our Ancestor Johann Steinseifer in a Tax List. This johann was the 4th Great Grandfather of Our Johannas Steinseifer who arrived here in 1749. In 1988 after talking to Rev. W.A. Stonecipher , who had been to the Babbs' Family Cemetery, the burial place of my Immigrant Ancestor, Henericus Stonecypher, the son of Johannas. I visited the cemetery and upon finding it, I got the shock of my life. I found that it had been reduced in size to about 1/4 of its original size and as the cemetery book of Greene County which states that, "hundreds of graves lost." I had a very sickening feeling and felt that something should be done. This cemetery has been in the Babbs' family for about 200 years and has served as a burial place for all of our deceased relations. You will see all of the people buried there are related or connected to each other. The Babbs' are related to both the Stonecyphers' and Humberts'. In this cemetery, I find our immigrant Forefather, Henericus Steinseifer, his son Solomon and two of his wives,one of which was Elizabeth Hawkins , the daughter of Joseph Hawkins, which was the brother of Davy Crocketts' Mother. I find Rachel Steinseifer the daughter of Henericus who married Aden Humberd. Aden was the son of Samuel and Sarah Painter Humbert and the Grandson of John Humber. I find Seth Babb who fought in the Revolution War, His son, Seth jr. and his two wives, the first Hannah Annis Steinseifer the daughter of Absolom Stonecypher, son of Henericus and Seths' last wife, Mary Erwin, This is Hugh Babbs' line. There are a lot of Stonecyphers',Humberts',Babbs,Fords Gauntts, Morelocks,Hawkins, Babbs' and etc in this very old and historic Place. I had a very sickening feeling after seeing all this, I said it is time to try to do something so I got in touch with Mr. Hugh Babb, descendent of Mary and Seth Babb.
I found that meeting with Hugh, was just as exciting for him as it was for me. I found a man that had gone through the years of feeling responsible for the cemetery that he had inherited, he was feeling an obligation that no one should have to face alone. Ask yourself this question, How would you like to own a Cemetery? A cemetery requires upkeep and should be more than one persons responsibity. Hugh and I decided we would work together and try to get the cemetery in some kind of order, by asking for donations we were able to add some stones in front of the originals. We have placed 8 stones so far at the most needed places. As the funds are available, we place the stones. We now have a man that does the mowing and the money for this comes out of the funds. At our Annual Reunions, we put a drive on for Donations so we have been plugging alone. It has been a long time dream that someday this cemetery would be in a perpetual care situation and that day has arrived. With Hugh donating the land and with the help of a Lawyer, which happens to be our cousin, James Humberd atty. from Knoxville, TN., who donated all his work free, this dream has come true. We have Hugh and Jim to THANK for making this possible.

What is Germanna

Germanna was a village created on the peninsula of the Rapaidan River in Spotsylvania county Virginia in the early 1700's. Alexander Spotswood was governor of Virginia and had developed this area for his own personal home and a chosen site for the seat of the Spotsylvania County Government.. "In 1714 Colonists did not leave their homes in Germany not knowing their destination, nor were they compelled to do so. They were engaged to perform a specific job in Virginia for Lt. Governor Alexander Spotswood, Knew where they were going and what they were to do. They came from one of the thriftiest and most intelligent provinces of Germany. They were master mechanics, and were an intelligent, progressive set of people." Gov Spotswood brought three colonies to Virginia.

In 1716 Spotswood acquired a tract of land consisting of 3229 acres and this was the Germanna Tract and the first land that Spotswood acquired in this area. This was their home in a new land for the first Germans, a place where language was no barrier.

Rachel My Dear

We saw your name Rachel on a stone so old.
We found you resting under a sky so blue and clear.
We remembered all the stories we had been told.
We, your loved ones had looked for you many a year.
Rachel, My Dear, we didn't know you were there.
Rachel, My Dear, we shed tears of joy and love,
As we looked at the Tennessee sky above.
Rachel, My Dear, we Love you so.

We stand there, each heart was beating so fast
We found our minds thinking into the long ago past
We had found our Rachel, Dear at last
We thought we heard you call our Aden's name,
Who was your mate for all your life.
We know no man could have had a better wife.
Rachel, My Dear, Aden's resting beside you.
Rachel My Dear, he loved you too.
Rachel, My Dear, we love you so.

We saw your name, Rachel on a stone so old.
We found everything so silent and still.
We could see your old Humbard home across the valley and down the hill.
We thought we heard you call Isaac, Henry, Aden, John,
William and Samuel, your tall sons of long ago.
We thought we heard you call Lydia, Rachel, Mary,
Rebecca and Elizabeth, your daughters of gold.
Rachel, My Dear, your children loved you.
Rachel My Dear, we love you so.

We left you there with your stone so old.
We will always remember the stories we were told.
Sleep on ! Our Rachel, Dear slumbers here.
We will always remember that you are there.
Sleep Well ! Rachel, Dear, Aden's resting beside you.
You both have been there for quite a spell
We find ourselves wishing you both well.
Rachel, My Dear, we miss you.
Rachel, My Dear, we love you so.

REUNION NOTES

They got to Utah & camped near Mtn. Meadows, this was in 1857. They were under attack for 5 days & when they were running out of ammo. They surrendered & John Lee agreed to save them. The Mormons marched by their side & when they were out of sight they murdered them & left them where they fell. Mormons took the children & cared for them as their own, eventually returning some of them to relatives in AR & MO.

During the question period she was asked about the Federal troops that were just over the hill from where all of this fighting was going on & why they did not save the people. She had no answer for this but did say that the Federal Government had been sending in troops to take over the government of the Mormons so there was a lot of animosity between the Mormons & people of other States. After all the Mormons had been burned out & killed twice while living in other States. The reason for the move to Utah was to get away to live their own ways & lives.

Editors note.
So was all of this allowed to give the Federal Government more reason to continue to try & keep the Mormons down? It makes one wonder since they did nothing to save the wagon trains.

Lunch Break

Returning from lunch we resumed with relating tales of family. James Hampton reported on the TN Reunion in Greeneville. Barbara Young told of the Cox Cemetery in Dallas, TX; which was first used about 1845. She said there is still a church building there. Absalom Humbard & several of his descendants are buried there. The first burial was 9/6/1848. Joyce Dickinson did a reading on the old woman in the mirror, which was very entertaining for all of us (senior sentiments). Remaining time spent visiting, exchanging information, copying info & anecdotes after being entertained by Joe Ditmore on his keyboard.

Sat. 14 Oct 2000

President Stacy opened with the auction of the items, which were contributed by the attendees. Joe Ditmore was auctioneer with Derek Young assisting. The auction made $241.00, which was donated to the Babb Farm Cemetery Fund.

Lunch was prepared by & catered by the women from Joyce Dickinson's church & it was delicious & plentiful.

Resumed after lunch with Bill Stacy telling of a mule drawn swing from Oak Grove now at Knottsberry Farm in CA.

Tim Loftis told about Oak Grove's beginnings & showed pictures of the first building built around 1904 – 1910. A 1918 picture of a congregation, with the identities, of about 25 people. Calvin Humbard's Grandson ran the mill for a while. One of the Humbard's built a building for a son-in-law, which housed a number of businesses, including a post office & garage. An old well still exists near the old garage building. James Humbard built a house on the northside of the street in 1900, which is still standing.

Derek Young spoke about relocating to Columbia, MO & is looking for information on Absalom Humbard, who was an active rebel in 1862 & was taken prisoner in 1863. He looked for a military record & none was found but is still searching for how he escaped.

Discussion on next reunion & officers it was decided to keep the same officers except for

BABB FARM CEMETERY NEWS

THANKS TO ONE AND ALL

Again, as was voted on at the reunion, Hugh Babb was sent the auction money, which came to $241.00. He sent a very nice note with a receipt for the money thanking the mid west Humbard Reunion folks who were the ones responsible for it. This is where Aden & Rachel Stonecypher Humbard are buried as well as Rachel's father Henry Rickus Stonecypher & the last male Humbard that lived in the old Humbard house. There are also Morelock's & Gault's buried there as well as Babb's. Hugh wrote thanks in very large letters on the receipt. If any of you get back to Greeneville, TN take Hugh's phone number & give him a call, as he will be very glad to show you the cemetery.
